Caelin Miltko grew up in Missoula, Montana in a large Irish-American Catholic family. During her time at the University of Notre Dame, she studied English and Irish (the language), studied abroad in Dublin, and worked at several newspapers. She loves to hike, ski, write, and knit, and she once saved a penalty kick in a Gaelic football game (against 10-year-olds). She will be serving as Volunteer Coordinator, Editorial and Vendor Program Support at Street Roots.

Gretchen Schissel grew up in New Hampshire, fifteen minutes away from Mount Sunapee. She studied Global Studies and French at Providence College and did one semester abroad in Geneva, Switzerland. She participated in two global service learning courses during college—one to Tijuana, Mexico, and the other to Guatemala. In addition to traveling, Gretchen enjoys music, biking, running, and hiking, especially with family and friends; and she is a novice home-brewer. She is passionate about food justice and sustainable agriculture and will be with Sisters of the Road Café as a Café Operating Team Member.

Brianna Fay will be serving as a Support Specialist at the Raphael House this year. She enjoys photography, live music, and old movies ('A Philadelphia Story' is her favorite). Brianna graduated from the University of Vermont with a bachelors degree in Environmental Studies and loves doing anything outdoors.

Lindsay Tenes grew up in Santa Cruz, CA and attended Santa Clara University where she studied Environmental Science and Spanish Studies. She enjoys traveling and spent a semester abroad in Buenos Aires. A perfect day for her would be swimming at the beach and then enjoying a nice book on the sand. She will be serving as the Program Specialist Natural Resource Pathway for Portland Opportunities Industrialization Center/Rosemary Anderson High School.

Glen McClain is a native of Springfield, IL, and he will be serving as the Youth and Family Engagement Specialist with Catholic Charities at Floyd Light Middle School. Having gone to school with his three sisters since pre-K, Glen is excited for the adventure of independently moving to a completely new place. He enjoys running, coffee, and anything related to the brain.

Emily Breakell is a recent graduate of Holy Cross in MA, originally from Harwinton, CT, and is excited to explore Portland as the Activities and Events Coordinator in the Ecumenical Ministries of Oregon's HIV Day Center. She enjoys listening to any and all NPR Programming, drinking tea, playing with dogs, sleeping, and jogging poorly. In college, she served as Student Body Co-President, and now hopes she can replant her activist roots beyond the HC campus.

Aubree Sentkowski enjoys being connected to the elements of nature and surrounding herself with positivity. She loves to learn new things and enjoys meeting new people. She is outgoing and a little out of sorts at times, but can always laugh at herself and tries to make every experience worth while. She will be serving at William Temple House as a Social Services Coordinator.

Lucy Pawliczek grew up in rural PA and enjoys gardening, cooking, and traveling. She studied Philosophy at Boston College, where she found a passion for live comedy. She is thrilled to be the next Community Liaison at the Maybelle Center.
