A Message from the Pastor

Buckminster Fuller, an American philosopher, once said: "God, to me, it seems is a verb, not a noun." What a challenging way of thinking about and understanding God.

This weekend we celebrate the feast of Pentecost. Christ makes good on his promise not to leave us orphans. He sent his first disciples the gift of the Holy Spirit and he continues to do that for us today. But how do we know that the Spirit dwells in us and our world? I think a good starting point is to examine the actions of the Holy Spirit.

In the preface of our Second Eucharistic Prayer for Reconciliation, we read about the activity of the Holy Spirit and, consequently, the presence of the Holy Spirit.

Your Spirit changes our hearts:
enemies begin to speak to one another,
those who were estranged join hands in friendship,
and nations seek the way of peace together.
Your Spirit is at work
when understanding puts an end to strife,
when hatred is quenched by mercy,
and vengeance gives way to forgiveness.

Pastor's Message continued from page one:

It is the Spirit Jesus sends us that gives us the ability to understand our baptismal identity, to honor our baptismal commitment, and to live our baptismal mission. It is the Spirit that teaches us how to be faithful to our promises, how to be generous with our time and talent and treasure, how to be gentle with friends and strangers alike, how to be good in word and action, how to be joyful in our living and hopeful in our dying, how to be at peace with ourselves and others, how to be patient and full of courage in the face of life's challenges and occasional disappointments.

It is the Spirit Jesus sends us that gives us the wonderful ability to dream, to imagine, to remember the past and be filled with gratitude, to be aware of the present and invest ourselves whole-heartedly in it, to long for the future and take that next step in hope that will help us realize what only seemed an impossible dream. On this Pentecost weekend, let us take to heart and live the words of Steve Garnaas-Holmes.

However the Spirit works in you,
work with that Spirit.
However the Spirit bears love in you,
let that love grow.
If beauty or friendship feed your joy,
bathe your heart in those things.
If words or silence nourish your peace,
give time to them to bless you.
If baseball makes you more patient
then play baseball.
Whatever nourishes the Spirit in you practice, that it may bear fruit.

Fr. Mike

-Spiritual Exercise 224

Alleluia, He is Risen, Alleluia!!!

In the Fourth Week of the Exercises, Ignatius asks us to pray with no less than fourteen Resurrection appearances of Jesus. One of my favorite passages is the story of the disciples on the Road to Emmaus. After the disciples recognize Jesus, their hearts burn within them. Hearts on fire with love, gratitude, and hope. Becoming people of hope, living out our Easter call and promise, we surrender to God's grace and allow His love and mercy to flow through us to all of Creation, and to actively share the Good News. Imagine

St Ignatius School

Our third graders enjoyed their time on a bridge tour through Portland and talking with a bridge operator.

And our fifth graders learned about fossils and bats during their OMSI Camp experience.

We celebrated Mary throughout the month of May culminating in a May Crowning ceremony in outdoor family groups on May 24th. In family groups, the students listened to readings about Mary, sang songs for Mary, and laid flowers at Mary's feet in the grotto at the Loyola Jesuit Center behind our school. Blessed Mary, Queen of Peace, pray for us!

We are currently accepting applications for students in preschool through fourth grade. If you know someone possibly interested in making the change to St. Ignatius School, please send them to our website sispx.org for more information.

We wish to inform our community of some exciting news. Mrs. Dulley, our kindergarten teacher, is expecting her first child next November! We will let incoming kindergarten families know when we have more information about her maternity leave next fall. We are happy to share in this exciting journey to parenthood with the Dulleys!

Our current middle school English Language Arts teacher has stepped away due to a family emergency and has decided not to return next year. We are actively looking for an amazing, energetic middle school English Language Arts teacher. If you know of someone, please send them our way.

As we celebrate Pentecost this Sunday, may we rejoice in the joy and grace we receive from the Holy Spirit as we go forth to spread the Good News. "Send forth your spirit, they are created and you renew the face of the earth." Psalm 104:30.

May we remember the brave Americans that secured our right to live in a free, democratic country through their sacrifice on Memorial Day. Let us lean on our faith as we hear in Joshua 1:9, "I command you: be strong and steadfast! Do not fear nor be dismayed, for the LORD, your God, is with you wherever you go."

Peace be with you always.
