

ST. IGNATIUS PARISH CATHOLIC CHURCH & SCHOOL UNDER THE CARE OF THE JESUITS

PASTOR'S MESSAGE

APRIL 25, 2021

FOURTH SUNDAY OF EASTER

My Flock Hear My Voice

Dear Parishioners:

One of the students at Regis College in Toronto I got to know during theology studies was a blind Jesuit, Larry Gillick. He used to amaze me by recognizing people by the noise their shoes made when they walked by. Of course, he knew people by their voices. But he could also tell from what he heard in another's voice what the person was feeling – cheerful or pensive or worried or joyful. Larry could tell a lot from hearing another's voice. I think that kind of sensitive awareness is what Jesus meant when he said his sheep recognize his voice.

When you love someone a lot, you delight to hear their voice in any of life's little moments, or especially in situations of celebration or crisis, or after a long absence. Today's gospel poses the question: do you know the Risen Lord well enough to find consolation and reassurance in his voice? Some may wonder how you hear his voice at all.

This is Vocation Sunday. This weekend throughout the world, the Church prays that you will hear the Good Shepherd call you by name. Baptism is the way God calls you to be his son or daughter. At baptism you receive your mission "to love God with your whole heart, and your neighbor as yourself." Christ the Good Shepherd constantly calls you by name – leading you to abundant pastures, warning you of dangers, or standing between you and harm. Your mission is to love as Jesus did – no matter what your state in life.

In the Gospel from John, Jesus says "My sheep hear my voice. I know them, and they follow me. I give them eternal life, and they shall never perish." This is a wonderful promise – that you will never perish and will receive eternal life. It is also an assurance of a love that will never let you go. Parents know the secret – that when their children least deserve love is when they most need it. Jesus can't stop loving you – not because you are always loveable, but because that's who he is – faithful, divine love in the flesh.

The promise of Jesus also means that you belong to a flock – you are a member of a faith community. In the Book of Revelation, John saw in his vision “a huge crowd which no one could count from every nation and race, people and tongue.” And the reading from Acts says that when Paul and Barnabas departed from Antioch, they left behind a body of believers who banded together to share their joy in the Lord.

The promise of Jesus also means that you participate in a cause that is bigger than yourself. An Old Testament verse says that it is “the little foxes that make havoc of the vineyards.” In other words, there are trivial demands that distract you from what’s important. What you need to be truly alive is one great unifying vision that pulls everything together and gives you strength, direction and purpose. Your deepest desire for companionship with Jesus will reveal your vocation – and exercising your unique talents will show you the road to follow in learning how to love.

A last promise of Jesus is that your life is completely in God’s providence. John says it well, “The Lamb on the throne will shepherd them. He will lead them to springs of life-giving water.” Pedro Arrupe, the Father General of the Jesuits, said “not a leaf falls from a tree without the divine permission.” When you listen for the voice of the Risen Lord, get ready to be amazed at what you hear.

The person of faith lives with the intuition of divine guidance and protection in every moment of life. Where a skeptic may interpret some event as chance or luck, the person of faith hears in every adventure the voice of the good Shepherd. This is what it means “to find God in all things,” not that a disciple is free from the travail of human selfishness, but that the Good Shepherd accompanies his flock no matter where life takes you – always teaching you how to love.

On this Vocation Sunday, let us hear the Risen Jesus speak a new beatitude. Blessed are you who recognize the voice of the Good Shepherd, calling to you in the broken hearted, the lonely, and those overlooked on the margins of life. In your baptismal mission to learn how to love, your challenge is to imitate the Good Shepherd in the care for the little ones entrusted to your safekeeping.

ST. IGNATIUS SCHOOL

Now that all grades are on campus for full days, students are getting more PE, Music, Library and Technology classes. It is starting to feel closer to normal. Kids are still spaced out throughout the day, washing hands frequently, and are wearing masks, but the joy coming from students at every level permeates the building. Our families are doing a fantastic job of adhering to the Oregon Health Authority guidelines. We could not stay open safely without everyone's cooperation.

Last week we wrapped up our first Move-a-Thon fundraiser! We surpassed our goal of $30,000 and raised over $37,000! Once again, our community comes together in amazing ways! The kids had a blast completing their Bingo boards each day. Classes that had 100% participation turning in Bingo boards received free dress passes. There were also some class and individual prizes the kids were competing for. The money earned will be going toward updating textbooks, science materials, playground and recess equipment, and library books. Thank you to everyone who supported this event!

The coronavirus pandemic has struck working families especially hard: millions of essential workers remain on the job at risk of infection while millions of others have been displaced from work and are at risk of poverty and homelessness.

These are our parishioners and the people we serve in our other ministries – how much do we know about what they have experienced during this time? The Catholic Labor Network, supported by a grant from the Catholic Campaign for Human Development, has created a short 1.5 hour zoom-based program for Catholic Charities USA on “Ministering to Workers in the Time of COVID.”

In the program we take testimony from workers impacted by the pandemic and explore together its implications for our ministry. Besides the workers themselves, presenters will include Fr. Ty Hullinger, Pastor of St Anthony of Padua Church in Baltimore and consultant to the US Conference of Catholic Bishops' CCHD Subcommittee; Adrian Flores, Director of the Office of Social Concerns in the Archdiocese of Los Angeles; and Clayton Sinyai, Executive Director of the Catholic Labor Network.
